Shifting Gears for Mobility.Pioneers: third edition set for Munich on February 7th, 2019

Vienna, December 6th, 2018 – In its third year, Mobility.Pioneers will take place once again at the Muffatwerk in Munich, Germany. Key decision makers from the mobility sector, including OEMs (original equipment manufacturers), transport providers, leading corporations and investors will meet 70 selected startups. The focus in 2019 will lie on the transformation of the automotive sector, urban mobility and smart cities, as well as the next generation of transport.

We're pleased to announce the first round of speakers:

- Andreas Thellmann: As Director Operations at Airbus Urban Mobility, Andreas is accountable for the development of an end-to-end Urban Air Mobility solution aimed at bringing flying taxis to the market.
- Charlene Consolacion: Chalene is the CEO and Co-Founder of Biig Technologies Inc., transforming the automotive industry by introducing a secured and smart lockbox into vehicles and enabling a wide-array of on-demand automotive services such as in-car trunk delivery.
- Svilen Rangelov: As CEO, Svilen leads the business team at DRONAMICS in developing the world-leading cargo UAV "The Black Swan" - a fixed-wing aircraft that can transport 350 kg at a distance of 2,500 km cheaper than any aircraft in existence.
- Tim Houter: As the CEO & Co-Founder of Hardt Hyperloop, Tim is working on bringing sustainable high-speed transportation that is faster than airplanes, yet more energy-efficient than trains, to the world.

"We're excited to return with the third edition of Mobility.Pioneers to Europe's mobility, Munich." says Oliver Csendes, CEO of Pioneers. "In recent years we've seen the extent to which innovation in the mobility sector has grown, which is certainly mirrored by the range of high-caliber speakers who will be joining us in Germany."
